

The Amsterdam Writing Workshops Presents

Simply Writing:

The Professional's Approach to Just Getting It on the Page

Two-day workshop

Taught by Lisa Friedman

"The 'Simply Writing' workshop...freed me of misconceptions that I had about the process of writing. A joy of writing has replaced a burden to write." – Ingrid Froelich

>> Saturday & Sunday,
September 19 – 20,
1 pm – 5 pm

>> Do you only write when you have an assignment? What obstacles do you experience to writing? How can you structure your life in order to keep writing? How, exactly, do you finish a piece of writing?

>> ABC Treehouse,
Voetboogstraat 11,
Amsterdam

>> At Simply Writing, we'll define ways of making writing a more natural process; more time-efficient; and more fun. If you're a beginning writer, you'll receive guidelines for getting started. If you're already writing, we'll pinpoint how to become more productive.

>> Fee: 150 euro

>> All levels and non-native English speakers welcome.

>> For this group, it simply doesn't matter what you're planning to write: articles, novels, screenplays, reports... You'll receive the personal attention needed to help get your ideas on paper.

>> You'll leave the class with:

- > a personal plan outlining what you need in order to write
- > three different techniques for creating a first draft
- > a book list including new and classic writing references
- > excerpted interviews with four successful writers
- > the top ten professional techniques for just writing it down

Lisa Friedman has been earning a living as a writer for 20 years. She studied writing at Columbia University, Poets & Writers, The New School, and New Dramatists. Lisa teaches monthly writing workshops in Amsterdam.
